

INTERNATIONAL GEOGRAPHICAL UNION COMMISSION ON GENDER AND GEOGRAPHY

NEWSLETTER NUMBER 47

OCTOBER, 2010

Letter from Commission Chair

On 25-26 July 2011 I attended the ‘Householding in Transition: Emerging Dynamics in “Developing” East and Southeast Asia’ workshop in Singapore. For me the heat was a welcome change from the cold of the New Zealand winter. This event was superbly organised and a great success. Gender was an important theme throughout. For more information see Shirlena Huang’s report later in this newsletter.

In my last note from the Chair I mentioned being on the Steering Committee of the International Year of Global Understanding (IYGU), an IGU initiative lead by Professor Benno Werlen. It aims to mobilize the sciences, social sciences and humanities in a united effort to raise awareness of the global implications of everyday living. Benno is keen to see gender issues addressed as part of this project. Funding issues are still being resolved and I hope to be able report more in the next newsletter.

I would like to remind everyone that on 8-10 November 2011 we will be addressing the theme ‘Connecting differences through spatial borders’ at the Pontificia Universidade Católica (PUC) in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. This will be the inaugural Latin-American meeting of the Commission (it will precede the IGU regional conference 14-18 November 2011 in Santiago, Chile). For more information on the Rio meeting see <http://www.gete.net.br/ocs/index.php/ugi/SGGUGI> or contact Joseli Maria Silva at joseli.genero@gmail.com. It is not too late if you would like to take part.

Next year, 23-25 August 2012, our Commission will host a pre-meeting ‘Down to earth: identities, bodies and spatial scales’ at the University of Hamburg, Germany (it will precede the International Geographical Congress, 26-30 August in Cologne). More information, including contact details of the organizers, is available in this newsletter.

Finally, Commission members have been busy publishing. In particular two sets of articles have emerged from the meeting ‘Post-Socialism, Neo-Liberalism – Old and New Gendered Societies and Policies held Szeged, Hungary and Timisoara, Romania 23-25 May 2009. One is a special issue of Annals of West University of Timisoara, Series GEOGRAPHIE, XIX, 2009. Articles are included in the bibliography below. and see also <http://www.geografie.uvt.ro/en/research/publications/annals/annals2009.htm>); the other is the latest issue of International Research in Geographical and Environmental Education (IRGEE), Vol 20, No. 3. 2011. (also in the bibliography) .

Robyn Longhurst

University of Waikato. Aotearoa/New Zealand

Singapore Workshop: “Householding in Transition: Emerging Dynamics in ‘Developing’ East and Southeast Asia.”:

The IGU Commission on Gender and Geography together with the Asia Research Institute, National University of Singapore and the Department of Geography, Royal Holloway University of London, organized an international workshop on “Householding in Transition: Emerging Dynamics in ‘Developing’ East and Southeast Asia” on July 25-26, 2011 in Singapore. Shirlena Huang, (National University of Singapore) and a member of the Gender Commission’s Steering Committee served on the organizing committee for the workshop which was held at the Asia Research Institute in Singapore. Commission Chair, Robyn Longhurst, (University of Waikato) chaired a session and also provided concluding remarks at the end of the conference. Drawing on the concept of transnational ‘householding’ forwarded by Michael Douglass, who keynoted the workshop, speakers sought to enhance current understandings of the profound implications of the dramatic social and economic changes that have swept the region in recent decades with consequences for the domestic landscapes in some of Asia’s lesser understood country contexts. Thirteen papers – covering Cambodia, China, Laos, the Philippines, Thailand and Vietnam – examined the forces shaping, and the challenges facing, household structures and their members’ everyday lives along three broad themes: (non)marriage and divorce; inter-generational questions concerning aging and care; and issues surrounding migration and the ‘left behind.’ In wrapping up the workshop Robyn observed that gender was a theme that ran through most of the presentations and suggested that sexuality is a topic we might see increasingly addressed in future research on householding in the region. Finally, she prompted a discussion on some of the similarities and differences between the terms ‘household,’ often used in literature on migration, global cities, transnationalism, and diaspora, and ‘home’, often used in feminist, social, and cultural geography. The final discussion was a productive end to two very fruitful days. For the full program, with abstracts and bios of speakers see: http://www.ari.nus.edu.sg/events_categorydetails.asp?categoryid=6&eventid=1092

.Pre-IGC-Conference: IGU-Commission on Gender and Geography, August 23-25, 2012, Hamburg, Germany.

The conference will be held at University of Hamburg. Campus. Bundesstraße), located close to the city centre (railway station: Hamburg-Dammtor). All conference venues are in walking distance and/or accessible by public transport. Hamburg is easily accessible by air (international airport), sea (port) and train from all over Europe; train ride to Cologne (IGC main conference) is 4 hours.

The General Theme is “Down to Earth: Identities, Bodies and Spatial Scales.” It encompasses gender issues with a particular focus on embodied identities and their materialities at various spatial scales, but also more general feminist concerns in urban and migration studies, as well as political, economic and social geographies.

Call for Papers and Sessions will be posted in October 2011; deadline for abstracts is end of March 2012. Authors of accepted papers will be notified in May 2012 and a preliminary program and list of participants will be circulated soon after. (It is planned to publish a special journal issue in 2013 with a selection of conference papers)

Conference fee for university staff will be € 100; for students € 50, including tea, coffee and lunch. Dinner and transfer to Cologne on Sunday are not included in the registration fee.

Accommodation: There are many hostels and hotels close to the conference venue (from € 19 upward) and private accommodation can also be organized (for students).

Local Organization Committee members are Anke Strüver (University of Hamburg, struever@geowiss.uni-hamburg.de) and Sybille Bauriedl (University of Kassel, bauriedl@uni-kassel.de)

NEWS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Congratulations to the recently created Rede de Estudos de Geografia e Gênero da America Latina (REGAL) on the publication of its edited book (see below, Joseli Maria Silva, Marcio Jose Ornat, and Alides Baptista Chimin Junior). REGAL represents the expanding activity and productivity of feminist/gender geographers in Brazil. In this volume the Brazilian editors have brought together an array of geographers from Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Mexico, and Portugal, notably widening the international reach of contributions to the field. The book's contributors address an array of settings in rural and urban, public and private spaces. They bring diverse approaches to their investigations: interpretation of cultural representations in media, analysis of planning and policy documents, in-depth qualitative interviews, examination of multiple case studies, analysis of spatial behaviors, and examination of national statistics. In so doing, they demonstrate the multiple ways in which gender roles, relations, and identities can be explored. But beyond simply documenting lives and places, the book exhibits commitments to raising social and political consciousness and change. Contributors make visible such crucial issues as domestic violence and the disproportionately high rate of female murders in Latin American countries. They show how even in situations of crisis and warfare, women's activism can have personally transcendent implications and support personal empowerment. They point to the limits of hierarchical political and social structures for sustainable environments of production.

At the August 2011 conference of the Royal Geographical Society/Institute of British Geographers in London, gender research was well represented in 20 sessions either sponsored by the Women and Geography Study Group or co-sponsored with Research Groups such as Children, Youth and Families; Leisure and Tourism; Space, Sexualities and Queer, and the Developing Areas. Illustrating the range of gender research and international engagement were papers by Isis Díaz-Carrión (Universidad Complutense de Madrid) “When did the river become masculine? Tourist use of natural resources in Jalcomulco (Mexico)” in the session on “Imagining Rural Landscapes beyond Traditional Gender(ed) Structures;” by Fazeeha Azmi (University of Peradinaya), Catherine Brun and Ragnhild Lund (Norwegian University of Science and Technology) on “Inclusive Citizenship and Gendered Participation: Perceptions of Youth in Sri Lanka” in the session on “Youth in the Global South; “Friendship as Place: Social and Cultural Practices of Barcelona’s Teenagers” by Anna Ortiz, Maria Prats and Mireia Baylina (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona) in one of several sessions devoted to geographies of friendships, and by Katherine Brickell (Royal Holloway, University of London) on “Community Dramatisation of Family Life: Participatory Video as Research and Gender-Training Tool in Hue, Central Vietnam” co-sponsored with three other research groups.

Congratulations to Yoga Rasanayagam (Sri Lanka) who has been appointed as the Chancellor of the Eastern University of Sri Lanka by the His Excellency, the President of Sri Lanka with immediate effect for five years. It is a great honor to hold this position especially since Yoga is the first Tamil woman to be appointed Chancellor of a Sri Lankan University. Now retired from the University of Colombo, Yoga was one of the first members of the IGU Commission on Gender and Geography, so we are especially pleased to learn of her appointment. .

The Women’s Research Program at National Taiwan University celebrated the distinguished career of geographer Lan-Hung Nora Chiang on her recent retirement with a farewell seminar on “The Difficulties, Challenges and Breakthroughs of Gender Researchers”: on April 19, 2011. The seminar also marked the 25th anniversary of the Women’s Research Program of which Professor Chiang was a co-founder and director.

Congratulations to Heidi Kaspar who was awarded her doctorate in Geography at the University of Zurich in July on her research on the everyday appropriation of space in urban public parks. The research indicates that despite various measures towards safer cities, women continue to express concerns about safety and fear of crime as they did in the past.. An inference is that increasing street lighting, a common measure, leaves the power relations between sexes untouched. Heidi is pursuing the issue of feelings of safety, including men's perspectives in a project (2011-2013 undertaken on behalf of the municipality of Zurich in a newly built public park.

Congratulations to Sylvia Chant (London School of Economics) who has been named as a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts (FRSA) on account of her “expertise and exploration of gender in geographical development’.” See references below for the latest of her continuing contributions.

Anindita Datta (Delhi School of Economics) continues to be active internationally in contributing to gender studies in geography on Asian themes. In July she delivered a keynote presentation at a workshop on “Youth Risk and Sexuality in Vietnam and India: Educational Concerns.” In September she will share her work on “Regional Constructs of Gender in India” and “Power and Agency within Indigenous Feminisms in Asia “ at the Population Research Centre, Faculty of Spatial Sciences, University of Groningen, the Netherlands, as part of the 'New India Program. The goal of the visit it also to build collaborative networks with interested faculty. This will be followed with a lecture tour during India Week at NTNU in Norway on themes of declining sex ratios and regional constructs of gender in India. She also recently edited a special issues of Gender, Technology and Development (15 (3)) on " Gender and Space: Themes from Asia".which will be out in November. This is the first post seminar publication of several planned from the event which Delhi University, Australian National University and the IGU Commission on Gender and Geography held in Delhi in 2010..

Jasmine Truong, Christian Berndt and Karin Schwiter (University of Zurich) have received funding from the city of Zurich to analyse the market of care providers for the elderly in private homes in Zurich (German title: Marktanalyse "Care in Zürcher Privathaushalten") The project represents an example of the contributions that Swiss geographers working in gender studies are making in the public arena.

NEW BOOKS

Gilbert, Melissa R. and Michelle Masucci. 2011. Information and Communication Technology Geographies: Strategies for Bridging the Digital Divide (This book, which addresses issues related to low income women, may be downloaded. <http://www.praxis-epress.org/availablebooks/ictgeographies.html>)

Jaschok, Maria and Jingjun Shui. 2011. Women, Religion and Space in China: Islamic Mosques and Daoist Temples, Catholic Convents and Chinese Virgins. London and New York: Routledge.

Melesu, Afaf Ibrahim, Eugenie L. Birch, and Susan M. Wachter (eds). 2011. Women's Health and the World's Cities. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press.

Raju, Saraswati (ed). 2011, Gendered Geographies: Space and Place in South Asia. New Delhi, U.K. and U..S: Oxford University Press.

Silva, Joseli Maria, Marcio Jose Ornatm and Alides Baptista Chimin Junior. (eds) 2011. Espaç. E Gênero Feminilidades ibero-americanas. Ponta Gross. Todapalavra.

Twine, Francine Winndance. 2011. Outsourcing the Womb.: Race, class, and gestational surrogacy un a global market.” London and New York: Routledge.

Note: Two books previously published in hardback editions the International Studies of Women and Place series (Routledge, NY and London) are now available in paperback: Dyck, Isabel, Nancy Davis Lewis, and Sara McLafferty (eds) Geographies of Women's Health and Anne Coles and Anne-Meike Fechter (eds) Gender and Family Among Transnational Professionals.

SPECIAL JOURNAL ISSUES

Annals of West University of Timisoara 19 (2009) is a special issues guest edited by Sorina Voiculescu and Robyn Longhurst that includes an editorial introduction and ten articles originally presented at the IGU Commission on Gender and Geography conference on “Gender, Post-socialism and neo-liberalism” held in Szeged, Hungary and Timisoara, Romania in 2009. See below for contents. For the English version see: <http://www.geografie.uvt.ro/en/research/publications/annals/annals2009.htm>

Justice Spatiale: Spatial Justice (volume 3) is a bi-lingual French-English journal issue that addresses issues of gender/sexuality in urban spaces. The entire issue can be downloaded from (<http://www.jssj.org>) with separate versions in each language.

International Research in Geographical and Environmental Education 20 (2) August 2011 includes a Forum section on “Perspectives on teaching geography and gender in a postsocialist, neoliberal-dominated world.” The individual items are listed in the section below. The papers were originally offered at the IGU Gender Commission conference sessions in Timisoara, Romania, and include contributions from Aotearoa/New Zealand, Israel, the Netherlands, Romania, Spain, and an overview of issues that emphasizes earlier developments and trends over time in the US and Britain. .

BOOK CHAPTERS AND ARTICLES

Ansell, N; L van Blerk, F. Hajdu, and E. Robson, 2011 “Spaces, times and critical moments: A relational time-space analysis of the impacts of AIDS on rural youth in Malawi and Lesotho.” Environment & Planning A 43 (3) 525-44.

Bastia, Tanja. 2011. “Migration as protest? Negotiating gender, class and ethnicity in urban Bolivia.” Environment and Planning A 43(7) 1514-29.

Bastia, Tanja, Nicola Piper and Marina Carrón. 2011. “Geographies of migration, geographies of justice? Feminism, intersectionality, and rights.” Environment and Planning A 43(7) 1492-98.

Bennett, Katy. 2011. “Homeless at home in East Durham,” Antipode 43(4): 960-985

Bertrand, Monique 2011. “Women and the local: Promotion or confinements in African cities.” Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:40-60. (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Blazek, Matej and Fiona M. Smith. 2009. “Children’s place in networks of childcare in Slovakia: What childhood and gender tells us about post-socialism.” Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 121-32,

Blidon, Marianne. 2011. “Seeking recognition: spatial justice versus heteronormativity.” Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:: (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Boivin, Renaud, 2011. "Aggregation and segregationL Gays in the Paris urban area. Circular migration and misrecognitions." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3: 61-81. (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Borgohain, Paravat and H.N. Sharma, 2009. "Married women's careers and household chores: A case study of Guwahati city, India. Annals of West University of Timisoara 19:93-108.

Boulineau, Emmanuelle and Myriam Houssat-Holzchuch. 2011 "In Memory of Emanuelle Bonerandi." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3: 144-45. (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Brial, Fabien. 2011. "Tourisme internationale et prostitution feminine: le cas de Nosy-B, Madagascar." Annales de Géographie 679.: 334-47.

Casellas, Antònia, , Marta Pallarès-Blanch ,and Antoni F. Tulla. 2009. "Women's political participation in parliamentary democracy in rural Catalonia, 1970s-2000s." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 11-26.

Cattan, Nadine and Anna Clerval. 2011. "virtual networks and ephemeral centralities for lesbians in Paris." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:16-39. (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Chant, Sylvia (2011) "Gender and the City". Urban Age, LSE Research Magazine, 3 Spring, 26-7.
<http://www2.lse.ac.uk/researchAndExpertise/LSEResearchMagazine/home.aspx>.

----(2011) "The "Feminisation of Poverty" and the "Feminisation" of Anti-Poverty Programmes: Room for Revision?, in Nalini Visvanathan (coordinator), Lynn Duggan, Laurie Nisonoff and Nan Wiegiersma (eds) The Women, Gender and Development Reader, (2nd ed.). London: Zed). Reprinted abbreviated article originally published in Journal of Development Studies, 44 (2):.165-97)

----. (2011) "Female Headship and the "Feminisation of Poverty." In Janet Lee and Susan M. Shaw (eds) Women Worldwide: Transnational Feminist Perspectives on Women .New York: McGraw-Hill.

----.(2011) "Women, Gender and Urban Housing in the Global South." In Susan J. Smith et al (eds), International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home.Oxford: Elsevier.

----. (2011) "Household Organisation and Survival in Developing Countries.", In Susan J. Smith et al (eds), International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home. Oxford: Elsevier Chant, Sylvia and Kerwin Datu.(2011) "Urban Prosperity Doesn't Automatically Mean Gender Equality'." The Global Urbanist (September) <http://globalurbanist.com/>).

Chant, Sylvia and Isatou Touray. (2011) "Women and Gender in The Gambia: Problems, Progress and Prospects.." In Abdoulaye Saine, Ebrima Ceesay, and Ebrima Sall (eds) The Gambia: Essays on Contemporary Issues and Future Direction (s), 1965-2009 Trenton, NJ. Africa World Press)

Chiang, Lan-hung Nora and Ying-chun Liu. 2011. "Feminist geography in Taiwan and Hong Kong." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 557-69.

- Conlon, Deidre, 2011. "Waiting: Feminist perspectives on the spacings/timings of migrant (im)mobility." Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 353-60.
- Das, Madhushree and Harendra Nath Sharma. 2009. "Cultural continuities and social change among tribal women in Assam." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 39-54.
- Day, Rosie and Russell Hitchings 2011. "'Only old ladies would do that': Age stigman and older people strategies for dealing with winter cold." Health and Place 17(4): 885-94.
- Diaz-Cortes, Fabio and Maria Dolors García-Ramon: (2010) "Mujeres, vida cotidiana y espacios públicos en la región metropolitana de Barcelona." Finiserra. Revista Portuguesa de Geografia. XLV, 90.:49-69
- Direnberger, Lucia. 2011. "From the street to the Internet: feminine and feminist spaces of contestation (<http://www.jssj.org> (pp 178-196) Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3: 163-78.: (<http://www.jssj.org>)
- Dixon, Deborah and Sallie A. Marston. 2011. "Introduction: Feminist engagements with geopolitics." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 445-53.
- Droogleever Fortuijn. Joos. 2011. "Teaching gender and geography: The case of the Netherlands." International Journal of Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3): 175-78.
- Dufaux Philippe, Philippe Gervais-Lambony, Claire Hancock, Sonia Lehman Frishm abd Sophie Moreau. 2011. "Justice in the street." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:1-3. .: (<http://www.jssj.org>)
- Dufaux Philippe, Philippe Gervais-Lambony, Chloe Buire, Henri Dubois. 2011 "Spatial justice and the right to the city: An interview with Edward Soja." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:146-62. (<http://www.jssj.org>)
- Dyer, Sarah, Linda McDowell, and Adina Batnitzky. 2011. "Migrant work, precarious work-life balance: What the experiences of migrant workers in the service sector in Greater London tell us about the adult worker model." Gender, Place and Culture. 18(5): 685-700.
- Fekete, Éva G. 2009. "The role of women in the development of rural areas in a post-socialist Hungary." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 27-38.
- Fenster, Tovi. 2011. "Teaching gender in Israel: Experiences at the Tel Aviv University." International Journal of Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3):195-197
- Fluri, Jennifer. 2011. "Armored peacocks and proxy bodies: gender geopolitics in aid/development spaces of Afghanistan." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4);519-36.
- Foster, Jeremy. 2011."Sortir de la banlieu: (re)articulations of national and gender identities in Zaida Ghorab-Volta's Jeunese Dorée. ." Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 327-51.

García-Ramon, Maria Dolors (2011) "Teaching Gender and Geography in Spain" International Research in Geographical and Environmental Education, 20(3) 185-187

----. 2011) "Universidade e gênero na Espanha: trajetórias acadêmicas de docentes na geografia." In J.Silva, M.J.Ornat, and A. Chimin Junio, (eds.) Espaça, Gênero e Feminilidades Ibero-americanas, Ponta Grossa, Todapalavra Editora.

García-Ramon, Maria Dolors,, Lluís Riudor and Perla Zusman(2009)"Aida y los imaginarios geográficos urbanos. Viajeros catalanes que visitan el Cairo (1889-1934)". En: Fernando Luis Martínez Nespral (eds.). La ciudad y los otros. Miradas e imágenes urbanas en los relatos de viajeros. Buenos Aires: Ed Nobuko.

Garcia Ramon, Maria Dolors, Anna Ortia, and Herminia Pujol. 2009. "Negotiating personal and professional lives: Women and men faculty in Spanish Geography." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 67-80.

Gorman-Murray, Andrew. 2011. "'This is disco wonderland.' Gendering sexuality and the limits of gay domesticity." Social and Cultural Geography 12(5): 435-52.

Gray, Breda. 2011. "Becoming non-migrant: Lives worth waiting for." Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 417-32.

Grimsrud, Gro Marit. (2011) "Gendered spaces in trial: the influences of regional gender contracts on in-migration of women to rural Norway." Geografiska Annaler Series B. 93(1): 3-20.

Hancock, Claire.2011. Gender, sexual identities and spatial justice." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3:16-39. (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Hajdu, F; N. Ansell, E. Robson, L. van Blerk, L and L. Chipeta, 2011 "Income generating activities for young people in southern Africa: Exploring AIDS and other constraints." Geographical Journal 177 (3): 251-263 doi: 10.1111/j.1475-4959.2010.00381.x

Hinton, Rachel.and Jaya Ernest. 2011. " Assessing women's understanding of health in rural Papua-New Guinea: Implications for health policy and practice. Asia Pacific Viewpoint 52(2): 178-93.

Hoang, Lan An. 2011; "Gendered networks of migration decision making in North Vietnam." Social and Cultural Geography 12(5): 419-34.

Huang, Shirlena and Brenda Yeo. 2011. "Navigating the terrains of transnational education: children of Chinese 'study mothers' in Singapore." Geoforum 42(3): 394-403.

Hubers, Christa., Tim Schwanen, and Martin Dijst. 2011. "Coordinating everyday life in the Netherlands: A holistic quantitative approach to the analysis of ICT-related and other work-life balance strategies." Geografiska Annaler Series B 93(1): 67-80.:

Hunter, Mark. 2011. "Beneath the 'Zunami': Jacob Zuma and the gendered politics of social reproduction in South Africa," Antipode 43(4):1102-1126.

- Hyndman, Jennifer and Winona Giles. 2011. "Waiting for what?: The feminization of asylum in protracted situations." Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 361-79.
- James, Al. 2011. "Work-life (im)balance' and its consequences for everyday learning in the New Economy: Evidence from the Irish IT sector." Gender, Place and Culture. 18(5): 655-84.
- Jarosz, Lucy. 2011. "Nourishing women: Towards a feminist political ecology of community supported agriculture in the United States." Gender, Place and Culture 18(3): 307-26/
- Jucu, Ioan Sebastain. 2009. "Lugoj, the municipality of 'seven women fo a man: from myth to post-socialist reality." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19.133-46.
- Karlsdottir, Anna and Audur Ingolfsdottir. 2011. "Gendered outcomes of socio-economic restructuring: A tale from a rural village in Iceland." Nora: Nordic Journal of Feminist and Gender Research 19(3): 163-180.
- Kim, Changoo, Sunhe Sang, Yongwan Chun, and Wook Lee. 2012. "Exploring urban community imbalance by jobs and Gender." Applied Geography 32(2) 532-45.
- King, Russell, Adriana Castaido and Julie Vulternari. 2011. "Gendered relations and filial duties along the Greek-Albanian corridor." Economic Geography 87(4): 393-410.
- Koch, Natalie: 2011. "Security and gendered national identity in Uzbekistan." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 499-518.
- Kynsilehto, Anitta. 2011. "Negotiating intersectionality in highly edeucated migrant Mahgrebi women's life stories." Environment and Planning A 43(7) 1547-61.
- Lelea, Margareta Amy. 2009. "Gender intertwined neoliberal subjectivities and livelihood strategies along Romania's western border, 1999-2005." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 109-210.
- Longhurst, Robyn. 2011. "Becoming smaller: Autobiographical spaces of weight loss." Antipode
- . 2011. "Teaching gender geography in Aotearoa/New Zealand." International Research in Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3): 179-83.
- Lund, Ragnhild, Sarah Khasalamuwa and Suzanne Y.A. Tete. 2011. "Beyond the knowledge-action gap: Challenges of implementing humanitarian policies un Ghana and Uganada." Norsk Geografisk Tidsskrift 65(2) 63-74.
- MacLeavy, Julie. 2011 "Reconfiguring work and welfare in the UK's 'New Economy' regulatory geographies of welfare-to-work at the local level." Gender, Place and Culture 18(5); 611-33.
- Martin, Lauren. 2011. "The geopolitics of vulnerability: the legal subjectivity of children, the detention of immigrant families and the immigration law of the United States y the politics of application." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 477-86.
- McIlwaine, Cathy and Anastasia Bermúdez. 2011. "The gendering of policies and civic participation among Colombian migrants in London." Environment and Planning A 43(7) 1499-1513.

Mills, Sarah. "Scouting for girls? Gender and the scout movement in Britain: Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 537-56.

Monk, Janice. 2011. "Politics and Priorities: Placing Gender in Geographic Education." International Journal of Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3): 169-174.

----. Perspectives on teaching geography and gender in a postsocialist, neoliberal-dominated world: Guest editorial and introduction to special forum." International Journal of Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3): 165-67.

Moss, Pamela. 2011. "Still searching for the Promised Land: placing women in Bruce Springsteen's lyrical landscapes." Cultural Geographies 18: 343-362

Mountz, Alison. 2011. "Where asylum seekers wait: feminist counter-topographies of sites between states." Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 381-99.

Nash, Catherine Jean. 2011. "Trans experiences in lesbian and queer spaces." The Canadian Geographer 55(2):192-207.

Olasz, Lajos, 2009. "Women soldiers of NATO countries in combat duty." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 55-66.

Paul, Tanusree. 2011. "Space, Gender and Fear of Crime: Some Explorations From Kolkata." Gender Technology and Development (forthcoming, November).

Porter, G., K. Hampshire, A. Abane, A. Tanle, A. Munthali, E. Robson, M. Mashiri, and G;Maponya, 2011 "Young people's transport and mobility in sub-Saharan Africa: the gendered journey to school." Documents d'Anàlisi Geogràfica 57 (1): 61-79.

Riaño, Yvonne. 2011. "Drawing boundaries of participation, experiences, and strategies of economic citizenship among skilled migrant women in Switzerland." Environment and Planning A 43(7) 1530-46.

Richter, Marina. 2011 [in press, available online]. "A country full of snow". Spanish migrants in Switzerland and their ways of engaging with places, memories, and personal migration history. Emotion, Space and Society.

----. 2011. Topographien der Ungleichheit. Dequalifikation als ein weibliches Phänomen? Berichte zur deutschen Landeskunde 85:49-59.

Schuster, Liza. 2011. "Dublin II and Eurodac: Examining the (un)intended consequences;" Gender, Place and Culture 18 (3): 401-16.

Schwiter, Karin (2011) "Anticipating the Transition to Parenthood: The Contribution of Foucaultian Discourse Analysis to Understanding Life Course Patterns." Area, Forthcoming Special Issue on Theorizing Life Transitions. (Early View)

Schwiter, Karin, Nina Wehner, Andrea Maihofer, and Eveline Huber. (2011) "(Re)Produktionsmechanismen geschlechtsspezifischer Segregation in Ausbildungs- und

Berufsverläufen." femina politica, Special Issue on "Bildungsreformen und (Re)Produktionen von Geschlechterverhältnissen", 14(2).(forthcoming, October)

Silvey, Rachel and Katherine Rankin. 2011. "Critical development studies and political imaginaries." Progress in Human Geography 35(5): 696-704.

Smith, Darren P. 2011. "Geographies of long-distance family migration: Moving to a 'spatial turn'." Progress in Human Geography 35(5): 652-68.

Smith, Fiona, Emma Wainwright, Susan Buckingham and Elodie Marandet, 2011. "Women, work-life balance, and quality of life: case studies from the United Kingdom and Ireland." Gender, Place and Culture. 18(5): 603-10.

Smith, Sara. 2011. "She says herself . 'I have no future': love, fate and territory in Leh District, India." Gender, Place and Culture 18(4); 455-76.

Szóró, Ilona. 2009. "Gender studies in Hungarian publishing." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 81-92.

Taylor, Yvette. 2001. "Lesbian and gay parents' sexual citizenship: costs of civic acceptance in the United Kingdom," Gender, Place and Culture. 18(5): 583-601.

Truong, Jasmine (2011) Arbeit, Arbeitsidentität, Arbeitsplatz. Die neuen Wanderarbeiterinnen in der Sorgewirtschaft. Masterarbeit am Geographischen Institut der Universität Zürich.

Van Hoven, Bettine. 2011. "'We were just testing what kind of man you are': Negotiating masculinities in a New Mexico prison." Justice Spatiale/Spatial Justice 3: 82-104. : (<http://www.jssj.org>)

Voiculescu, Sorina. 2011. "Teaching gender and geography in Romanian universities." International Journal of Geographical and Environmental Education 20(3): 199-93.

Voiculescu, Sorina and Robyn Longhurst. 2009. "Editorial: (Re) Thinking gender, post-socialism and neo-liberalism : An introduction." Annals of West University of Timisoara 19: 7-10.

Wainwright, Emma, Elodie Marandet, Susan Buckingham and Fiona Smith. 2011. "The training-to-work trajectory : Pressures for and subversions to participation in the neoliberal market in the UK." Gender, Place and Culture. 18(5): 635-654.

Waite, Gordon and Andrew Gorman-Murray. 2011. "'It's about time you came out': Sexualities, mobility and home." Antipode 43(4): 1380-1403.

Walsh, Katie. 2011. "Migrant masculinities and domestic spaces: British home-making practices in Dubai." Transactions of the Institute of British Geographers 36(4) :516-29.

Yao, Jing, Alan T. Murray, Victor Agasjarian, and Sarah R. Hayford. 2012. "Geographic influences in sexual and reproductive health service utilization in rural Mozambique." Applied Geography 32(2):801-607.

